- I could not fully accomplish cookies, so could not add in useful details besides UI for the user dashboard and Settings pages (solely in regards to those pages).

Deployment
- Could not successfully deploy my REDIS project, as it was incompatible with the deployment techniques I was looking into.

Feedback
- Some useful feedback was to ensure users weren't able to click on a solution till they exhausted hints.
- I was also encouraged to use temporary alerts to inform users when they haven't inputted any guesses when they clicked Submit.

Long Term Enhancements
- I got a great suggestion from the professor to create levels of difficulty (which would involve increasing the number range of possible values for each number in the six digit code).
    - This would be a great idea for long term enhancements.
